IMAGING POLICY
RE: GOOD PRACTICE RECOMMENDED WHEN TAKING PHOTOGRAPHS IN SCHOOL

RHSC aims to provide as safe an environment as possible for all students and staff, while, as far as is possible, minimising risk without detracting from the enjoyment of celebration.

An annual consent letter/attachment is sent to all parents of current pupils relating to general photography and use of images.

Governors have agreed that the school adopts the following procedures:

- School Notice boards
  Photos on notice boards of individual and groups of students will have names under them. (There are many people who use the school but the inability to single out individuals for recognition would be a great loss to them and the whole school and the benefit is seen to outweigh the risk.)

- The Reepham Review
  This high profile publication is issued four times a year to parent/carers of existing pupils, to supporters of the school, including local companies and copies are placed in public places such as local libraries and doctors’ surgeries.

  In relation of photographs, group names will feature in alphabetical order. Individuals’ names will not be printed beneath them, although it may be possible to identify an individual through an accompanying article.

- School Performances
  Parents of pupils performing in drama productions, concerts etc, may wish to video/digitally record their child’s performance. These images are for personal use and the Data Protection Act does not apply.

  If a parent objects to his/her child being filmed in a school performance, he/she has the right to raise their objection with the governors.

- Press Releases
  Photographs taken by the press of an awards ceremony for example, will not breach the Data Protection Act, as long as the school has agreed to their publication and the pupils, their parents/carers are aware that photographs of those attending may appear in the newspaper.

  In relation to group photographs, names will appear in alphabetical order; individuals’ photographs only to be provided with specific parental consent.
